3. Project Background

The global economic shifts of 2020, including the COVID-19 pandemic, supply chain disruptions, and accelerated digital transformation, presented SMEs with unprecedented challenges: limited access to capital, volatile markets, complex cross-border transactions, and resource pressures from digitalization. These obstacles often stalled business growth and led to missed opportunities.

Recognizing these pain points, AGAM was established to bridge the gap between traditional financial services and the evolving needs of modern businesses, delivering efficient and reliable capital market solutions.

Founder Caleb Scott drew on his extensive experience in European retail supply chains and capital operations to envision AGAM as a U.S.-centric platform infused with global expertise. The company was founded to address critical issues: limited financing options for SMEs, inefficiencies in cross-border deals, inadequate market value management tools, and a lack of tailored investment strategies. Through strategic partnerships with international investment firms and a focus on high-quality early-stage opportunities—such as IPO preparations, restructurings, and major M&As—AGAM has positioned itself as a dependable partner for sustainable growth. Our emphasis on technological innovation, including data visualization and structured analytics, enhances service efficiency. Since its inception, AGAM has swiftly adapted to market changes, helping numerous businesses overcome barriers and achieve comprehensive support from financing to listing. This is not just a company project but a mission to empower global SMEs to thrive in capital markets.
